About Goalpara

Goalpara, one of the oldest towns of Assam is situated on the south bank of the river Brahmaputra. It has the pride of having the 2nd Municipality in the State way back in 1875. History of Goalpara goes back to several centuries. Sir Edward Gait had remarked that the erstwhile capital of the state of Kumar Bhaskar Varma was either Goalpara or Coach Behar. The Goalpara district is endowed with natural beauty and archaeological treasure. One of the most important tourist destinations of the district is Sri Surya Pahar, which showcase the remains of cultural heritage of Buddhism, Jainism and Hinduism. The Pir Majhar of Saint Hazarat Sayed Abul Kashem of Kharasan, the Hulukanda Hill, the PaglaTek temple, the Tukreswari Hill, Urpod Beel are some of the other attractions of the district.

Goalpara, situated at a distance of about 140 km west of Guwahati and about 75 km from Bongaigaon and can be reached by road and railway. The college, situated in the heart of the town is very near to the ASTC bus stand and is about 5 km from the Goalpara Town Railway station.

About Goalpara College

Established on 8th August, 1955 in the heart of Goalpara town, Goalpara College has now become a knowledge hub for higher education. Since then, both the streams have been flourishing and attracting large number of students from various parts of the state and neighbouring states too. The College has introduced Commerce stream from this year.

About Assam Science Society

Assam Science Society, recipient of NCSTS's National Award 1990 for popularization of science, was established in the year 1953 as 'Guwahati Science Society' and subsequently renamed as 'Assam Science Society' in 1956. With the support of more than 100 branches spread all over the State of Assam, the Society has been making humble effort for developing scientific temperament among the people in general and students of Assam in particular. To create a scientific environment the Society is regularly publishing books, booklets, and science magazine in Assamese language, science research journal in English, holding technical seminars, symposia, workshops, popular talks etc. The major thrust of Assam Science Society is to promote science education and research in this part of the country. The annual technical session organized by the Society is a dedicated expression of that commitment.

Technical Session

The 61st Annual Technical Session of Assam Science Society has been envisaged as a broad platform for exchange of ideas among all sections of scientific communities.
